

TELEPHONE STRIKE A PROBABILITY

Hello Girls Vote to Break Off
All Negotiations With the Telephone Company.

Boston, April 5.—A strike of 2000 telephone operators and all other electrical workers connected with the New England Telephone Telegraph Company's so called metropolitan system is threatened.

Members of the Boston Telephone Operator's Union voted tonight without dissent to break off all negotiations with the company in connection with their demands for increased wages and readjustments of hours. A strike vote was ordered to be taken Monday.

The girls say that should they decide to stop answering calls and connecting subscribers they will be joined by the linemen, cable splicers, installers, and other electrical workers in the district affected by their action.

Such a strike would tie up 52 exchanges in this city and its suburbs within ten miles.

In connection with the vote tonight to break off negotiations the operators passed a vote accusing President F. L. Spaulding of the telephone company of having made misleading statements. It was ordered that no further conferences with him be requested.

In the event that a strike is ordered no notice will be given the company, or the public the statement announced.

MAINE SHERIFF LOSES OFFICE

Sheriff Ballou of Bath is Impeached
Following Legislative Hearing
On Neglect of Duty

Augusta, April 4.—John W. Ballou, of Bath, was ordered removed from office as high sheriff of Sagadahoc county at the conclusion of his impeachment trial in the legislature today and tonight. He was charged with failure to enforce the prohibition law.

Sheriff Ballou is 50 years old and had been sheriff 30 years. The senate vote was 18 to 11 and that of the house 51 to 50, in favor of removal.

The trial of Lewis W. Moulton, sheriff of Cumberland county on similar charges will begin tomorrow.

The most important event of the day in the impeachment trial of the sheriff of Sagadahoc county for alleged nonfeasance in office came when he took the stand in his own defense. The octogenarian, straight as a ramrod and clear voice withstood the questioning without turning a hair. He stood during the whole examination and refused to take a chair.

Mr. Ballou said that he told his son, John S. Ballou, one of his deputies to see that the law was enforced, in the city of Bath to get extra men and manage the whole thing. "If he didn't do it it was my misfortune, not his," said the sheriff. He said that he did not receive any complaints about the enforcement of the law.

He was too busy to chase after rum sellers. It was hard work to catch them as they spring up like mushrooms. In reply to questions sheriff

Ballou said that the first complaints about his office came less than ten days ago. "I made an inquiry," said he, "and found a difference of opinion. Some said there was trouble and others said there was not; more said there was. I concluded that my son had not done his duty as a deputy sheriff, and I asked him to resign, which he did. That was about ten days ago." He had received no complaints from Governor Holmes about non enforcement of information that Governor Holmes had heard of complaints.

"You thought it necessary to have deputies in Bath to enforce the law, did you?" asked attorney general Wilson.

"Yes, or I wouldn't have appointed them. But I was astonished to hear that open bars existed in Bath."

" weren't any rum sellers fined at the last term of court?"

"No I don't think so, I think they all ran away."

"Why did you keep liquor deputies in Bath when you thought that the city authorities were enforcing the law?"

"That's none of your business replied the sheriff with some heat.

Attorney General Scott Wilson represented the state as prosecuting officer, and was assisted by B. F. Cleaves of Biddeford and Edward C. Plummer of Bath. The defense was represented by former attorney general William B. Pittsford of Waterville.

TO TAKE UP NAVY YARD SITUATION

Secretary Daniels Writes Congressman Reed to That Effect.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels has assured Congressman Reed that he is to take up immediately the matter of navy yard work. Mr. Reed has received the following letter from the Secretary which states his position:

Washington,
March 31, 1913.
Mr. Eugene E. Reed, Manchester, N. H.
My Dear Friend—I have your letter of the 11th inst., and thank you for sending it to me. It is my purpose to look thoroughly into the matter of navy yard, and when I have learned the situation at first-hand, to be able to make such recommendations as will best promote the welfare of the service. I thank you for your suggestions and you must know that any suggestion from you will receive my serious and careful consideration and I am already prejudiced to take up anything you suggest.

With sentiments of esteem and high regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) JOSEPHUS DANIELS.

TO GIVE HEARING.

Appropriation Committee to Hear Those Interested in Armory Bill.

Those who are interested in the armory for this city can do some good in the matter by appearing before the committee on Tuesday next at Concord. On that day the committee on appropriations will give a public hearing. The bill has been so far advanced that the prospects for its passing looks good. Much work however remains to be done and the more interest that is displayed before this committee the better for Portsmouth.

WITHOUT WRECKER.

Portsmouth Relief Train Sent to Salem Temporarily.

For the first time in a half century Portsmouth is without a railroad wrecking train. This situation on the Boston & Maine is due to the sending of the local train to Salem and the Salem train to Boston. The Boston relief or wrecking outfit has been sent temporarily to White River Junction to be used in connection with some bridge work. If necessary during this change the relief trains at Salem or Portland will cover wrecks in this vicinity.

ORDERS FROM BISHOP.

Parish Priests to Make Known Personal Property Yearly.

A new order has been issued by Bishop George A. Guerin of the Catholic diocese of Manchester, where by the parish priest or permanent rector of each parish will annually make in inventory of all personal property in their residence and forward the same to the bishop on or shortly after April 1.

MANY ARRESTS MAY FOLLOW

Many Persons Sought in the Smuggling Cases--Some of the Men Posed as Globe Trotters

Boston, April 5.—Evidence unearthed by the agents of the treasury department investigating the system by which women's gowns and furs have been smuggled into Boston for the past ten years without duty, may result in the arrest of a dozen persons following the investigation into the smuggling by the federal grand jury, which begins its inquiry next Tuesday.

The majority of the persons under surveillance, it was learned yesterday, are women, some of whom are dressmakers and have profited through the smuggling, and others are said to be men and women who obtained the reputation of "globe trotters" without visible means of support. The latter are understood to be the most daring principals of the combination and those who undertook the direct smuggling.

In consequence of the present investigation and disclosures a big shakeup of the customs force in this city will take place. So far as learned no prominent official is charged with participating in the transactions of the smugglers, but the shakeup will come as the result of alleged lax discipline.

Information obtained by the Herald yesterday shows that the government is in possession of evidence which involves many persons, some of whom have heretofore borne the best of reputations, and the evidence of smuggling is said in some instances to date back fifteen years. A prominent lawyer is understood to be involved. Another lawyer who is said to have made several trips to Europe and back ostensibly for the purpose of "settling up estates" there is also likely to be questioned by the authorities because of his acquaintance with others involved.

It was stated yesterday that the government knows practically everybody involved and also the extent to which each one is connected with the case.

One hundred subpoenas for the appearance of witnesses before the federal grand jury on Tuesday of next week will be issued today from the office of the United States district attorney. Most of those are understood to be women, including Bath Bay dressmakers and several women who made frequent trips to Europe. Also included in the witnesses are a number of inspectors and other customs employees, taxicab drivers, expressmen and one or two men about town.

The subpoenas will be placed with United States Marshal Murchie to be served by his deputy marshals and bailiffs. Several witnesses will come from New York city.

The presentation of the evidence to the grand jury will be under the direction of the United States district attorney, assisted by Asst. Dist. Atty. William H. Garland and Daniel H. Shea. So extensive has been the investigation that it was stated yesterday that the grand jury may not finish its deliberations before two or three weeks.

"This investigation," said one authority yesterday, "will put the rollers under the slickest band of crooks in Boston, and one which has had everything its own way for a long time."

TURN OUT WITH BAND TO PAY HONOR

Ethel Roosevelt, Youngest Daughter of Col. Roosevelt, Married at Oyster Bay.

Oyster Bay, April 4.—Miss Ethel Roosevelt, youngest daughter of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, was married at Christ Episcopal church here today to Dr. Richard Derby. Miss Roosevelt entered the church on the arm of her father at three minutes after the noon hour. The service was brief, and at 12.15 the bridal party left the church and went by automobile to the Roosevelt home, Sagamore Hill, where breakfast was served and a reception held. Some changes were made in the service planned. The Rev. Dr. Endicott Peabody, master of Groton school, at Groton, Mass., read the betrothal service, and the Rev. Dr. Cotton Smith pastor of the church Miss Roosevelt attended in Washington, D. C., pronounced Dr. Derby and Miss Roosevelt man and wife.

Both Miss Roosevelt and Dr. Derby made their responses in voices audible in all parts of the church. The Rev. George E. Talmage, rector of Christ church, Fr. Bernard Powers, of St. Dominic's Roman Catholic church of Oyster Bay, and Fr. John C. Yorkie of the Huntington Catholic church were present at the service, and also at Sagamore Hill.

There were twice as many guests as had been expected, and the little church was so crowded that half a hundred were unable to find seats. Outside a crowd of nearly 1000 assembled, including many of the towns people. When Miss Roosevelt arrived with her father in a closed automobile, they cheered lustily, and the Oyster Bay band which had been brought along as a surprise, began a lively concert. It was evident that this demonstration by the people of Oyster Bay pleased Col. Roosevelt and Mrs. Roosevelt mightily.

GOVERNMENT IN LUMBER BUSINESS

Washington, April 4.—The United States has made its first timber sale, on the newly purchased Appalachian Forests, and the voucher that established the fact has been an object of interest in the hands of the officials of the Department of Agriculture who have had occasion to handle it.

The voucher itself does not show what the character of the sale was, but inquiry has drawn forth the information that the material disposed of was $7 worth of logs, bought by a Georgia farmer to use in building a barn. This apparently insignificant transaction is regarded as a forerunner of the future when the Government will be taking in a tidy revenue from the forest lands which it is now buying in the east.

These lands are being bought primarily to protect navigation, Congress held, in providing for their purchase, that the Constitution prohibits the Government from buying lands for these western forests except at the headquarters of navigable rivers, and for the purpose of regulating streamflow and preventing the silting up of the channels of commerce. Yet the production of timber will also be made one of the objects of applied forestry as the Government will practice it on these areas. The latest purchase, made last February, was of 75,000 acres in North and South Carolina and Georgia, on the headwaters of the Savannah river, and brought up the total which has been bought to 400,000 acres. Of this 320,000 acres are in the southern Appalachians, and 80,000 in the White Mountains.

Not all of the land is well timbered now, for the Government in many cases can not afford to pay the value of land and many timber together. Consequently most of the land acquired has been called or cut over or else is sold to the Government with the reservation by the owner of the right to cut and remove the timber under methods prescribed by the Forestry service. Nevertheless, sales of material will doubtless be made from time to time, and will increase in number and value as improved forests grow on these areas, under the stimulus of proper forest management and protection from fire.

RYE.

Capital Rural Farce Scores Success at the Town Hall.

Under the auspices of the Order of American Boys that entertaining play, "The District School at Blueberry Corners" was given on Thursday evening, and in a large audience, one of the largest assemblies in the town hall for many a night.

The play was aimed to represent an old-fashioned district school-room, and with its peculiar setting, including the dummy stool and cap and other ancient furnishings, complete in every detail, even to the old history book, made a most appropriate picture and therein were held the school sessions with the following cast of characters:

School committee—
Vernon Perkins, chairman,
Merton A. Drake,
George Phillips,
John Smith,
Ralph Down.

Applicants—
Miss Dushway,
Miss Helina Sharp,
Sally Simple,
Elizabeth Pendergast,
Harry Green.

Scholars—
Mildred Williams,
Pauline Smith,
Samantha Piper,
Jerusha Dickson,
Clara Gayner,
Josephine Treacart,
Ethel Rand,

Slim Dickey,
Bartholomew Johnson.

Visitors—
Mrs. Dickey,
Russell Dickey,
Miranda Dickey,
George Dows,
Lud Dickey,
Jordan Venton.

The characters were well sustained throughout and the cast without exception gave "The District School at Blueberry Corners" with a spirit and precision that were unexceptionally good.

The audience were in gales of laughter throughout the entire play and frequently gave applause in attestation of the natural charm in which the production was presented. The costumes were very effective and characteristic of the by-gone school days.

During the evening, the following brief but excellent features were given: Piano solo, Miss Rachel Post; Vocal solo, School Boys.

Mr. Albert Evans,
Miss Frances Remick, accompanied Selections by the club orchestra which included Wallace Rand, pianist; John Parsons, violinist; Charles Parsons, drummer.

A candy table abundantly filled with dainty sweets added to the attraction of the occasion and was conducted by Frank Peck. Punch was served by Donald Phinneyson and Ralph Berry, presided over the popcorn and peanut booth. These ladies deservedly attracted a fine patronage.

Manager Tinker Says Three Fingered Brown Will Surprise Those Who Thought He Was all in

Cincinnati, April 4.—Manager Joe Tinker of the Cincinnati team says that Mortimer Brown, the former Three Fingered pitching wonder of the Chicago Cubs and now a member of the Reds, is going to open the eyes of the critics who declared he was all in. Brown has all his old time speed, and his curves have all their elusive breaks. In addition, his control is just as superb as ever, says Tinker. Brown was released by the Chicago Cubs last winter, and his services were obtained by the wily route. When the Cubs let him go the general opinion was that Brown was all in as a pitcher. The three fingered marvel says that the real trouble was with his knee, and not his arm. During the winter he had the injured member attended by Dr. H. H. Reese and says it is O. K. Brown states that the bad knee provented him from putting all his strength into the throw. If Brown pitches in his old time form the Reds will be greatly strengthened in the box.

"CASCARETS" FOR A SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Gently Cleanse Your Stomach, Liver and Bowels While You Sleep

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases, that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, feeling of dullness, dizziness and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.
Try Cascarets; they immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the system and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Then your stomach trouble is ended. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10 cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children. Their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing too.

DAYTON FEARS ANOTHER FLOOD

Dayton, April 4.—Ten more inches of water in the Miami river will give Dayton another flood. A 10-hour down-pour, which did not end until 1 o'clock this morning, together with digging sewer intakes, flooded many streets to the depth of a foot, or more.

Much apprehension was felt in Dayton because of the washed-out condition of the levees, and guardsmen, assisted by many residents, kept a constant vigil.

The same condition prevailed in Miamitown, because of the deep gash cut in the levee near the Washington street bridge.

After the reports from Piqua, Bellefontaine, Troy and other places north indicated that there has been incessant rains, and Dayton will get the same. The water is at a standstill now, but Forecaster Henry P. Alps declares that a recurrence of the flood is possible.

It was necessary today to dynamite a number of rubbish piles along the river that the accumulation might float away.

THE GRAND TRUNK GIVES A RAILROAD TO RHODE ISLAND

Providence, R. I., April 4.—Pres. J. Chamberlain of the Grand Trunk Railway, in a letter received by Gov. Pothier today, offers to turn over to the state of Rhode Island the southern New England railroad as it now stands, on the condition that the state shall complete the road and operate it by one of two ways, which the writer suggests. The assistance of the Grand Trunk's engineers is tendered to the state.

Coupled with this offer is the statement that the line cannot be completed unless the state becomes the second guarantor of the necessary bonds; and that if the state is unwilling to accept the road as a gift and complete it, the contractors will remove their apparatus and the line will be definitely abandoned about the middle of this month.

Mr. Chamberlain says that since the road was begun it has been found that it will cost several million dollars more than was originally estimated.

"We will turn over to the state of Rhode Island," writes Pres. Chamberlain, "the Southern New England railroad as it now stands, after our expenditure on it of nearly $1,500,000, as an inalienable gift on condition that the state shall undertake to proceed with reasonable promptness to complete this railroad from Palmer, Mass., to Providence, and to arrange for its operation in one of the ways to be set forth.

"There will accompany this gift all plans, surveys, estimates and data of every kind which we have collected during the past three years with relation to the railroad project. We will assign to the state the contract with the O'Brien Construction company and John Marsh, and all other contracts pertaining to the construction of this railroad. We will give to the state the services of our engineers in an advisory capacity until the state engineers are thoroughly familiar with the subject.

"When the road is completed we will offer to the Senate the following alternative:

"First, if the state desires to operate the railroad, we will grant running rights on reasonable terms over the New London Northern from Palmer to Brattleboro, Vt., so as to make the line sufficiently long to constitute an operating division, and we will also make a traffic agreement between the Central Vermont and the state-owned railroad for a division of through rates on a mileage basis with a reasonable additional allowance for terminal charges.

"Or, second, the Central Vermont will lease the state-owned railroad for a rental equivalent to 6 per cent interest on the actual cost by the state of completing the whole line.

"If the state of Rhode Island does not desire to accept the above offer in any form we ask immediate consideration of the proposition heretofore laid before you of guaranteeing the bonds."

able battle against Zbyszko on Christmas night might well expect to see one of the most sensational mat contests that has been decided in the east in years.

In keeping with his policy of showing the world's best men Promoter Tuohy has also secured Mariah Plestina, the protégé of Champion Frank Gotch to meet George Lurich in a final match, best two falls out of three. Gotch figures Plestina a second Mahmoud and was the principal trainer of the champion in his recent matches.

The curlain raiser brings together Cyclone Burns, undoubtedly the best man of his weight in the world today and Earl Lemle, the Bohemian "Perfect Man." They will wrestle with a thirty minute limit. Even at that the contest will demonstrate whether Burns can concede weight to the man who made such wonderful showings against Zbyszko and Lurich and who is one of the finest types of athletes that has ever come from abroad.

Promoter Tuohy has made arrangements for handling 10,000 persons and the widespread interest in the carnival is shown by the demand for seats.

KING NICHOLAS HAS THE RIGHT SPIRIT

London, April 4.—King Nicholas of Montenegro is determined to capture and hold Scutari, according to a correspondent at Cetinje, who declares that the King made the following statement:

"I assure you that I and my people mean to keep the land we have retaken during the war. We mean to take Scutari and mean to keep it. This is the dominating impulse of the Montenegrins, who know too well that it is far safer to die fighting than to go on lying as we are doing now."

The King pointed out that the possession of the fertile lands of the Zeta Valley is a question of life and death to his country, and that his people are prepared to defy the will of Europe and to fight for victory or extermination.

"Scutari will be my capital in the future," declared the King, in conclusion.

AUSTRIA WILL STOP SIEGE

Vienna, April 4.—Austria-Hungary determined to act independently against Montenegro unless the naval demonstration on the coast of Montenegro should prove that more serious measures are unnecessary to enforce the will of Europe, according to the newspapers of the Austrian capital, which are apparently inspired.

The Neue Freie Presse adds that the city of Scutari must belong to the future state of Albania, with or without the consent of Europe.

The Reichspost declares that if Russia prefers to see things arranged otherwise, the whole work of the ambassadorial conferences in London will be null and void.

It is stated here that during the recent fighting in the vicinity of Scutari, the Montenegrins and Serbians besieging armies lost about 2000 killed and about the same number wounded.

MR. LANGDON AGAIN REMEMBERS HOSPITAL

Hon. Woodbury Langdon has again come to the aid of the Portsmouth Hospital and through his generosity materially assisted this fine institution.

At a meeting of the directors of the hospital on Friday afternoon, it was announced that Hon. Woodbury Langdon had contributed $3000, to pay the outstanding bills and to complete the furnishing of the new nurses home.

It will be remembered that Mr. Langdon presented the hospital with the Call house and paid all of the big expense of moving it from Pleasant street to its present site on the hospital grounds. Since then the building has been painted and it only lacked the furniture to make it an ideal home. Through the activity of Mrs. Peyser, the sum of $250 was secured from card parties to furnish one room, and some donations have been received, but it required a considerable sum to furnish the remainder of the house, and this is possible through Mr. Langdon's generosity. This is not the first time that he has remembered this worthy institution.

REBEKAHS HAVE VISITATION FROM STATE PRESIDENT

The Fannie A. Gardner Rebekah Lodge No. 93 received an official visitation on Friday evening from Mrs. Zella Phelps of Tilton, President of the Rebekah assembly, and there were about 150 members present to welcome her. This included sisters from the lodges at Newfields, Kittery, Exeter and Dover.

The visiting official was tendered a supper by the circle at six o'clock and the following menu was served:

Escalloped Oysters,
Baked Beans,
Cold Meats
Cake Pies
Coffee.

The degree was worked on three candidates and the work of the degree team came in for warm praise by the President, who also commented very highly on the Noble and Vice Noble transients taking their own parts in the work.

AN IMPORTANT HEALTH CONGRESS.

America will soon have an unusual opportunity to find out just what the world-wide health movement of the twentieth century rally amounts to in the field where its influence is most felt—in the schools. The International Congress on School Hygiene, to be held at Buffalo, N. Y., August 25-30, will be an international gathering of recent achievements in the hygiene of the school.

The Congress is international and national. Practically every foreign country and every state in the United States will be represented by delegates. So far all the state but Oklahoma, Arizona, Missouri, Alabama, Maine, Florida, and Kansas, have been heard from favorably. It is estimated that at least 8,000 delegates will be in attendance, 3,000 of them from abroad.

Many of the most prominent scientists and educators in this and foreign countries have promised to present papers and lead discussions at the meeting. A preliminary program of the congress has been issued, copies of which may be procured from the United States Bureau of Education at Washington, or from Dr. Thomas A. Storey, secretary general of the congress, City College, New York City.

Simplified Spelling.

The editor, having read the recommendations of the Simplified Spelling board, and feeling that this subject would afford a tranquilizing relief from the acerbities of politics, turned to the literature of spelling reform. He was amazed to find such words as "asinine," "liars," "witless persons" and "idols" hurtling through the calm academic arena. Apparently publishers of spelling books will not find their old stock outlawed for some little time yet.

If you assembled a group of intelligent Germans or Italians or Frenchmen and read to them a passage of their own tongue containing a lot of new words, they would all spell them about alike. But if all the college presidents of the United States were given such a passage in English no two would agree on one spelling. If too many changes are made all at once the public and young people get the idea that there is no such thing as a single correct standard of good spelling. Anyone can excuse his laziness and inattention at school by the excuse that he is a phonetic speller.

Furthermore, wholesale changes involve confusion and labor for grownup people who studied the old way, while the time of the children who are now learning to spell is comparatively cheap. Nevertheless, the English language is being simplified all the time. Twenty years ago everybody spelled it "programme." Today probably the majority of newspapers cut off the word's superfluous petticoats.

When Americans spell "honor" without any "u," English cousins call it western barbarism. When the letter "k" was left off "critic" and "public," many editors kept on using the "k" for a generation. But these old spellings would look as grotesque today as knee breeches and silver buckles.—Mirror.

Ice Prices for 1913.

One of the leading ice companies of this city has published its scale of prices of ice for the coming season, and to family consumers the prices are the same as last year. This is a gratifying condition and it is to be hoped that throughout the rest of the commonwealth prices will be about as they were last year. It is true that ice has been harvested during the winter under disadvantages, and in some instances the dealers have been obliged to pay more for it, but the situation evidently does not justify any material advance in the price of ice charged to the retail consumer. It is reported that a small advance over last year will be asked of those who take ice in wholesale quantities. This may or may not be a just arrangement, but in general the advance in price falls upon those who are able to pay it. Certainly they are in a better position to meet the higher price than dwellers in tenements and flats. One of the reasons why the ice dealers are well supplied with ice, notwithstanding the short season, is the supply left over from last season. New England usually depends upon ice cut from its rivers and ponds, while the South and other sections of the country rely largely on artificial ice. Manufactured ice can always be had, and fortunately there is no danger of an ice famine this summer or any summer.—Boston Globe.

Stick to Their Bargain!

Secretary Daniels is unquestionably right in refusing to accept the resignations of those graduates of the Annapolis Naval Academy who have served less than the period for which they engaged. Since he became Secretary of the Navy, not quite a month ago, nearly a score of such resignations have been tendered, and every one will agree with him that they are not entitled to favorable consideration. These young men, who have so soon tired of the career upon which they entered, have obtained an excellent education at the public expense, an education costing some thousands of dollars, with the understanding that they should employ the efficiency they have acquired in the national service. They have all explicitly agreed to do so for the minimum term of eight years, and they should be strictly held to the contract into which they entered.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Schools to Teach Safety for the Children.

The city of New York's first annual "safety day" was observed by 350,000 pupils on Friday in the public, parochial and Children's Aid Society schools. The American Museum of Safety, which is conducting a campaign of caution against avoidable accidents, has set apart the day and the educational authorities have given co-operation by directing the teachers to read a "safety lecture" in all class rooms at 2 o'clock. This is one of the most sensible things that has been done for years. The Herald suggested several months ago that the school children should be warned and taught to avoid accidents now that the auto has made thoroughfares so dangerous. This work must be undertaken by the schools and it is important.

DREAMS

I thought one early morning at the dreary, drowsy hour,
I heard a little bird that sang with strange melodious power.
It tilted on a willow twig, then sailed across the sky
More swiftly than the fleecy cloud that lightly floated by.
And then it came and sang a tune so loud and strong
That the sunbeams on the water danced in rhythm to the song—
Bing! Bing! went the alarm clock as it spoiled another dream!
That song was just the radiator loading up with steam!

I dozed again. I thought the south wind softly hovered near,
The sunshine, turned to ether, trembled in the atmosphere,
And it called the world to summer. As the hours went drifting by Each blossom breathed in perfume its life story to the sky.
And every leaf that fluttered in its languor seemed to say:
"I shall not stir again upon this listless, lazy day!"
Bing! Bing! went the alarm clock. Once again it spoiled a dream!
The janitor was putting on an extra charge of steam.
—Washington Star.

GOVERNMENT SURVEY.

Engineers Working at Pepperell Cove and Fortifications.

Government Engineers Forester and Vine of the war department have completed the work of locating ledges and taking soundings at Pepperell Cove, Kittery Point. On Friday they began a survey of all the land, buildings and granite at old Fort McClary, also Fort Porter on the Maine side and Fort Stark on the New Hampshire coast. Little or no information could be obtained as to what the survey at the fortifications mean on the part of the government.

FEAR FOR ADAMS.

Sailed a Month Ago from Boston; No Tidings of Vessel.

Much anxiety is felt in this city as to the whereabouts of Francis Adams, especially by his people. Adams who is about 18 years of age is said to have sailed on the steamer Barton from Boston to Halifax, with a cargo over a month ago. Nothing has been heard from the vessel since leaving port. The family attempted to get some tidings of the vessel but their work so far has proved useless.

EDITORIAL POINTS.

Portsmouth is certainly "coming back" in the apartment world.

The price of butter continues to soar—45 cents a pound. Why not a boycott for a month?

If every user of gasoline would agree not to buy any for a month it would mean cheaper gasoline. The middle man the weapon in every case.

House cleaning has caused that "dread feeling" to appear in many households.

The auto dealers are wearing a smile because of the reduced price on tires.

The business men that are happy and prosperous are the ones that advertise in The Herald.

The regular meetings of the police commission promise to be at least interesting. Is there any reason why these meetings should not be held in public?

Why not a New England Chamber of Commerce that will be for all New England? Who will start it?

ELIOT.

Robert Moulton of Colby College is visiting relatives in town. Mrs. George F. Kennard remains about the same.

A late inspector of the gypsy moth work is in town looking over the canvassed territory.

Roads are getting in very good condition.

It looks as if there will be a crack base ball team from the high school this spring.

Several of the summer cottages will be opened about the 20th.

SURPRISE PARTY

About twenty friends of Miss Gladys Mudgett tendered her a surprise party at her parents' home on Madison street on Friday evening. Games were played and vocal and instrumental music was enjoyed. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. During the evening Miss Gladys was presented with a silver ring. The party broke up at midnight and the guests repaired to their homes after a pleasant evening's enjoyment.

The public auction of the well known Hayes farm at the Plains attracted a large crowd this morning. The property was bid in by the Portsmouth Savings Bank, who hold the mortgage.

NOW—Is the time to buy a house lot. Take a look at the fine new homes on Lincoln avenue above W. bird street.

Post Offered to Walter H. Page Has Traditions of Magnificence.

Walter Hines Page, who has been named as ambassador to Great Britain, will step into a place which has traditions of great magnificence. It rests with the new diplomat whether he shall revive the splendor of the post. First he must choose a residence, as there is no permanent establishment maintained for the post. Whitelaw Field, the previous incumbent, outshone all former American diplomats at London with the magnificence of Dorchester House and the social functions therein. Others who had lived and entertained in regal fashion were John Lathrop Motley, who took Lord Yarborough's house; John Hay and Joseph H. Choate, who respectively lived in Carlton House Terrace. Those who filled the position with more simplicity and less expense were James Russell Lowell and Edward J. Phelps.

A VAST IMPROVEMENT.

Gratifying Progress in Road Construction in the Past Few Years.

That there are upwards of $100,000,000 of good roads bonds issued and outstanding is indicated by the Road Loans Year Book of the United States, the 1913 edition of which has just been issued, containing a resume of the whole road situation. It is evident that whatever may be the faults in methods of construction and maintenance money is being spent in sufficient amount to bring about a vast improvement in the public roads. The Year Book shows $127,000,000 of state and local bonds authorized, and $156,500,000 of county bonds outstanding on January 1, 1913, making a total of $283,500,000. As this is based on reports from 75 per cent of the counties in the United States, and as a large number of the individual townships have not reported, it is estimated that the amounts not reported would run to aggregate up to probably $250,000,000 to which should be added ten or fifteen million dollars of the bonds issued in 1912 which have not yet been issued.

Gratifying progress in road construction during the past few years is indicated by the statement in the Year Book that while the percentage of all road improvement in the United States at the close of 1909 was 8.66 per cent, the revised statistics to Dec. 31, 1911, show an improved mileage of 10.1 per cent, or a net gain of 1.44 per cent. This does not sound so impressive in terms of percentage but it means that in the two-year period more than 44,000 miles of improved roads were constructed or 10,000 miles more than the entire mileage of national roads in France.

The American Highway Association which issues the Official Good Roads Year Book has as its president, Hon. Logan Waller Page, director of the U. S. Office of Public Roads, and for the chairman of its executive committee the president of the Southern Railway Company, Mr. W. W. Finley. The Association has a large membership of prominent men in all parts of the country and is the clearing house or national representative of between thirty or forty of the various state and interstate road associations.

TENOR SOLO WINS PRISONER LIBERTY

New York, April 4.—A tenor solo sung in a prison cell today won for Nathan Kopan, a truck driver, his liberty after being arrested for violating ## the city's traffic rules.

The song, an operatic air, was being sung when Magistrate Appleton, who whose court room the melody floated, halted the trial of cases until the singer had finished. He directed that Kopan be brought before him.

"I would like to sing all the time," said Kopan. "I sing all day, on the wagon and it always makes me happy. I didn't mean to sing in prison, but I felt downhearted and I thought if I could sing a little I would feel more cheerful."

Kopan is 18 years old. In discharging him the court advised him to try to earn his living by singing.

NUN ASKS PARDON FOR HAWTHORNE

Washington, April 4.—The first attempt to secure freedom for Julian Hawthorne, son of the noted author Nathaniel Hawthorne, now serving a sentence of one year and a day in Atlanta prison for using the mails to defend was made public.

A sister of the prisoner, Sister Rosalie, a Catholic nun, visited Secretary Tamm and asked that she be permitted to present a petition to the President for her brother's pardon. She wanted to urge the pardon she said because he had been more shamed against than shaming, and also because the imprisonment had already had its effect on her brother's health.

Secretary Tamm gently explained that the President was busy with the cabinet and could not see her at that time. Tamm took her petition and later presented it to the President. Whether President Wilson will submit the document to the attorney general for investigation or not, on it himself has not yet been decided. When sentence was originally passed on Hawthorne by Judge Mayer the court dated it back to the time of the commencement of the trial, so that Hawthorne and Dr. Morton, a U. S. office of Public Roads, and for the chairman of its executive committee the president of the Southern Railway Company, Mr. W. W. Finley. The Association has a large membership of prominent men in all parts of the country and is the clearing house or national representative of between thirty or forty of the various state and interstate road associations.

SALMON SOLD AT $2 PER POUND

Bangor, Me., April 4.—The first salmon was taken today at the Bangor pool, which was opened for fishing Tuesday morning. Charles C. Russell was the lucky fisherman and sold his prize, a 16 pounder, for $32, the highest price per pound ever given for a salmon from the Penobscot river. The fish will be sent to Mrs. W. Campbell Clark of New Jersey.

MAINE SHERIFF LOSES OFFICE

and Frank L. Staples of Bath. Attorney Plummer in opening the case for the state, said the prosecution would show that Sheriff Ballou did not do his duty in the enforcement of the liquor law, according to the constitution and according to his oath of office.

Owen Tells of Conditions

The Rev. C. E. Owens of Waterville one of the secretaries of the Christian Civic League of Maine, and Wilbur Oliver, who a month ago was defeated by a slight margin as the Republican candidate for mayor of Bath, and who a few days ago was appointed by Sheriff Ballou as one of his deputies, but not yet qualified, were the morning witnesses.

Mr. Owen testified to the number of federal liquor licenses held in Sagadahoc county, all but three of which were taken out by residents of Bath. In a general way he told about liquor conditions, but under cross examination by Attorney Pattangal he admitted that he did not know personally that the men holding these licenses were selling liquor.

Mr. Oliver testified that wide open conditions existed in the shipping city. He identified copies of letters written by him calling attention to the alleged laxity of the enforcement of the liquor law, and gave the names of clubs where liquor was said to have been sold, as well as the names of individuals who are said to have sold it. He stated on cross examination that he never had made a complaint to Sheriff Ballou, but that he did make a complaint to one of his deputies.

Henry C. Parsley of Bath, a driver of a laundry team, testified that he was for three years in the liquor business and that he had seen liquor piled behind the bars in the city.

On cross examination the witness testified that he had paid fines, and had served time in jail for liquor selling.

John J. Keegan, Judge of the Bath municipal court, and Arthur J. Dunton, a former judge, produced records of conviction for infringement against the prohibitory law.

Deputy sheriffs who testified for the defense, said that they made complaints to Deputy Sheriff John S. Ballou. On cross examination witnesses said that the sheriff had made inquiries of them about the liquor business. Witnesses also testified that the reputation of Sheriff Ballou for honesty was of the best.

The other officials to be placed on trial are Sheriffs Louis W. Moulton, of Cumberland county, Albert J. Tolman of Knox county, Wilbert W. Emerson of Penobscot county and Hewitt M. Laws of Androscoggin county, also County Attorney William H. Hines of Androscoggin county.

tance she met on the street.
"Lena," said the acquaintance, "seemed rather down in the mouth. She said that things weren't going right with her financially. She said also that she was going back to New York. The entire conversation didn't last five minutes, as I recall it, but I remember it very distinctly, owing to the difference in her appearance from the time when I last saw her. I asked one or two questions, which she did not answer willingly, and I did not question her further. She was along on Tremont street at this time."

A Back Bay dressmaker, in whose establishment a close friend of Mrs. Shevlin works, or worked until recently, denied emphatically yesterday that she knew either Mrs. Shevlin or Lena Bradley or anybody connected with the case.

"I was introduced to Mrs. Shevlin, I remember, at Hull, about 12 years ago," she said, "but that was the only time I ever met her. I think I met her husband at the same time, but I have neither seen nor spoken to either since. I am quite certain that Mrs. Shevlin knew nobody connected with my house."

Similar denials as to knowing anything about the case or the principals connected with it were made in two other fashionable Back Bay establishments dealing in women's clothes. It was learned, however, that both Mrs. Shevlin and Lena Bradley had been heard of. It was further learned that Mrs. Shevlin obtained her first knowledge of dressmaking by serving a sort of apprenticeship in one Back Bay establishment.

C. Clemens of Chicago will preach at this service; come and hear this great preacher; this is a rare treat to the people of Kittery. 6:00, Epworth League in the vestry of the church. The board of stewards will meet at 7 o'clock on Tuesday evening, April 8. Following the prayer meeting on the same evening, the official board will meet. Important business will be considered at these meetings. The Sunday school lesson for the following Sunday will be the subject of the prayer meeting for the evening.

Second Christian church, Rev. Arinaldo Natio, pastor—Preaching at 10:30; subject, "The Church at Work." Bible school at 12, M. G. Ford, superintendent. Christian Endeavor meeting at 8; topic, "The Ideal Christian, His Humility," leaders, Misses Kramer and Moody. Preaching at 7, subject, "The Western Flood." All are welcome, all seats are free.

The death of Mrs. Francena Keene, wife of Joseph Keene, Sr., of the Intervene, occurred early this morning after a few days' intense suffering. Mrs. Keene was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fernald of Kittery, and has always lived in this town. She was a woman of beautiful character and sunny disposition, always having a pleasant word for everyone whom she met, and will be sadly missed by her family, friends and neighbors. Besides her husband there are left to mourn, two sons and two daughters, Frank of Portsmouth, and Joseph of Kittery, and Mrs. Charles Bridges and Miss Eva, both also of Kittery. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. George Frost of the Intervene, and Mrs. Owen Powers of Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dixon have moved into the house on Central street just vacated by Mr. Grant and family.

The Phobes held their regular business meeting last evening, after which an hour of sociability was enjoyed, the topics being current events, and items of interest were read by Miss Charlotte M. Beckford. Assorted nuts and bonbons were served. There was a large attendance of members and all thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

Miss Ruby Gleghrist has returned to York after passing a week with relatives at Kittery Depot.

Miss Sadie Beckford of Pleasant street was a recent visitor to relatives in Exeter.

Miss Nellier Call returns to her home in North Berwick tonight after passing the week with relatives and friends here.

Mrs. Clifton Andrews and son of Kittery Depot left today for a two weeks' visit to her mother, Mrs. L. N. Hurd of Sterling, Mass.

Mr. Hiram Sherburne and family are moving from Love lane to Portsmouth.

Mrs. Henry B. Shaw of Central street is passing the week-end with relatives at West Scarborough, Me.

Mrs. Rollins of Haverhill is visiting her sister, Mrs. Emily Morse of Central street.

A thrilling account of the life in the ranks of the American Army during the Spanish-American War will be the substance of the lecture to be given by Dr. E. C. Clemens Monday evening at the Second Methodist church. Every soldier will want to greet the speaker of the evening with his presence. Enough of good humor and wit will spice the lecture with interest and entertainment. From a nation's point of view, no one could better express the sentiment involved in this struggle with Spain than Dr. Clemens as his work takes him over the entire nation. All members of the Grand Army wearing their badge will be admitted free, and seats will be reserved for them.

The first masquerade of the season was held at Wentworth hall last evening by the Quinque club and was a very successful affair. A large number were masked, a couple from Portsmouth dressed in Italian style were considered the best. The members of the club are Messrs. Morrow, Chick, Blaney, Hobbs and Seawards. About $25.00 was cleared.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Avery of Woodsford, Me., arrive tonight to visit relatives at Kittery Depot, for a few days.

Mrs. Clarence Chick of Kittery Depot arrived home last evening from York and was accompanied by her son Carl, who has been visiting relatives there for a few weeks.

NEW CASTLE

It may be bromide to talk about the weather, but how can you help it, when it is first a drizzle, then a pour, then it simply rains some more. Spring by the almanac is here officially. Of course we must believe the almanac as well as the Bible, but it is hard to find the evidenced of vernal presence as yet which is retarding the Marathonic housecleaning race. All weather records the past winter and spring have been broken. Twain was quite right. New England has so much weather that it sticks over the edges.

Mr. Charles Eaton is safely convalescent from his recent illness.

The Rev. Edwin R. Smith of Concord secretary of the New Hampshire Home Missionary Society, will deliver the address at the Congregational church on Sunday evening.

Mr. James has had some mason work done at his home, Bernard Hersey of Portsmouth having performed the labor.

Corporal Harry Morrelle, Sergts. Showlow and Smith, Corporal Cammack attended the Uniform Rank banquet in Portsmouth last evening.

One of our most genial residents in town by the uncommon name of Smith has just recovered from the unique joke played upon him on All Fools' day by a pretty little Miss whose first name is Mildred.

RAILROAD NOTES

The mechanical department of the Boston & Maine road is building an addition to the East Somerville repair shop which will be occupied by boiler makers.

Charles P. Bacon, signal engineer Boston Terminal Company has electricians laying 16 wire cables in the South Station passenger yard, which will be used as auxiliaries on electric route locking.

The mechanical department of the road has arranged to coal light freight engines under the $5 class at Southern division, Boston & Maine yard No. 3 instead of coal yard No. 7, East Cambridge, for avoiding detention to fast freight traffic.

WANT OLD ARMORY.

Veteran Firemen Would Like the Drill Hall of the Soldiers.

Not only the soldier boy but the veteran firemen of this city are watching the armory bill at Concord. Should the bill pass and receive the signature of Governor Felker, the Franklin Pierce Association will get busy and go after the old armory on Court street for their headquarters. The red shirts believe that the organization should be nearer to the business section of the city. They are satisfied that such quarters will create more interest, and besides they would be close by to the regular department and advance the strong friendship now existing between the regulars and the veterans. According to their plans the several handbills which they own could easily be quartered in the basement of the armory.

PORTSMOUTH THEATRE PROGRAMME

Program for Friday and Saturday: Arabia, the Equine Detective—Selig. A nice drama. Introducing "Arabia," the human horse. Unique detective story with the cleverest of all horses in the leading role.

The Will-Be-Weds—Eleanora. A laughable comedy showing how a couple try every way to get married.

Act—The Vynos, musical act.

An Innocent Offender—Some valuable papers are missing. He employs a detective. He finds them in his son's toy rocking horse.

Act—Mabel's Animals.

The Hero of Little Italy—Biograph. Maria leaves Tony, her sweetheart, by flirting with Joe, Tony's enemy. She carries it too far and a tragedy was imminent.

A Modern Horse—Edison. A remarkable exhibition of apparently unlimited power by a great traction engine which actually pulls up trees by the roots and performs other wonderful feats.

Aunt Elsa's Visit—Edison. Is on the same reel. An "old maid" proves to be a very lively sort of person.

LEVI P. MORTON DECIDEDLY BETTER

New York, April 4.—A decided change for the better in the condition of Levi P. Morton, former Vice-President of the United States, was announced this afternoon by Dr. Herman Biggs. A steady improvement, Dr. Biggs said, is now expected.

COUNCILOR DISTRICTS.

Text of the Bill on the Redistricting.

The following is the text of the bill reported to the house by the special committee on redistricting, designating new councilor districts:

"Section 1, Chapter 22 of the Public Statutes is hereby amended by striking out sections 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 in said chapter and inserting in place thereof the following:

"1. Councilor district number one contains the counties of Coos, Grafton, and the county of Carroll, except the towns of Brookfield and Wakefield.

"2. Councilor district number two, contains the towns of Brookfield, and Wakefield, the county of Strafford, the county of Rockingham, except the towns of Brookfield and Wakefield, towns of Auburn, Candia, Chester, Derry, Londonderry, Raymond, Salem and Windham and contains the following towns in the county of Belknap: Alton, Barnstead, Belmont, Gilford and Olinthion.

"3. Councilor district number three contains the towns of Auburn, Candia, Chester, Derry, Hooksett, Londonderry, Raymond, Salem, Windham,

ENGLISH MILITANTS ON THE WARPATH

Blowing Up Trains and Railroad Stations--Hard to Tell What Next.

London, April 4.—Warnings were sent out today by the directors of the railroad systems throughout the United Kingdom to the effect that militant suffragettes had threatened to burn stations in various parts of the country. Patrols were ordered to be organized at all stations and in the tunnels.

Some empty trains were greatly damaged by explosives near Stockport, Cheshire, in the course of the night, and suffragettes are suspected of having committed the outrage.

A canister of explosives had been placed under a seat in one of the cars with a quantity of fire lighters saturated with kerosene and oil. The force of the explosion splintered the sides of several cars, the doors being hurled long distances.

There was also an attempt in the night to blow up Oxford station, in Surrey, on the London, Brighton & South Coast Railway, but the damage was inconsiderable, only the windows and doors of a lavatory being shattered.

A traveling basket was found in the lavatory, containing a clock timed to go off at 3 a. m. and some cans of petrol. A fuse had been set into a small package of gunpowder, which evidently exploded without lighting the petrol. A revolver was found outside the lavatory, which apparently had been dropped in a hurried flight.

Girls Arrested Before Dawn.

Two girls suspected of being militant suffragettes about to commit an outrage were arrested before dawn this morning. They tried to escape from the police by dropping bags they were carrying and running away. The bags were found to contain parallel paper saturated with oil, candles, matches, cotton wool, painted fire lighters etc. In each of the bags was a paper bearing the scrawl: "Be aware how you treat 'Mrs. Pankhurst'."

The girls were brought up at the police court where they gave their names as Phyllis Brady and Mabel Dean. They were remanded on the charge of being suspected persons. They had explained to the policemen who arrested them that they were returning from their Easter holidays.

ZELIE EMERSON'S CASE

Sec. Bryan is investigating whether she was subjected to cruel treatment in prison.

Washington, April 4.—Officials at the state department said today that the attitude of the United States in the case of Miss Zelie Emerson, the American militant suffragette imprisoned in London, would be determined after the receipt of a further report from the London Embassy, which was ordered to investigate charges that the young woman had been subjected to cruel treatment.

It was pointed out today that if Mrs. Emerson, mother of the young woman, has complained to the Embassy, it must have been through the sending of Charles Laughlin's report of yesterday, which said the mother had filed no charges, although she was granted an hour's interview with her daughter.

Sec. Bryan will immediately take up with Chandler Anderson, the counsel of the department, the question of what is to be done. Practically there is no precedent bearing closely upon it, the nearest being the Maybrick case, when some of the highest officials in the United States petitioned the British Government to release the American woman from the prison where she was serving a life sentence.

It was held by the various secretaries, notably Haines and Hay, that there was no warrant for a direct official request from the United States Government for clemency in Mrs. Maybrick's case; so these representations were unofficial, though made through the American embassy in London.

Sec. Bryan wished first to establish the complete regularity of the judicial proceedings in the case of Miss Emerson, and if he follows the ordinary course and ascertains that there has been no discrimination against the woman on account of her nationality, and that she has not been treated in a cruel and inhuman manner, forbidden by the principles of the law common to all nations, he likewise probably will confine himself to the exercise of his functions in an unofficial way to secure an amelioration of Miss Emerson's condition.

FRANCE DOES HONOR TO MORCAI

Paris, France, April 4.—The body of J. P. Morcaï arrived here today from France, and was transferred on board the Euxine France for transportation in New York.

Military honors were accorded during the transfer of the body from the train to the steamship. A battalion of infantry formed an escort, headed by the regimental band, which played "God Save the King." The regimental flags draped with mourning, and the military governor of Havre, and Vice Consul John Preston Bercher.

A mortuary chapel had been arranged on board the France for the reception of the coffin. It was hung with black velvet, fringed with gold. The ceremony was of extreme simplicity, but very impressive.

Keith Wood of Dartmouth college, is home for the usual Easter vacation.

PORTSMOUTH PROOF.

Should Convince Every Reader.

The frank statement of a neighbor telling the merits of a remedy, bids you pause and believe. By some stranger far away Commands no belief at all. Here's a Portsmouth case. A Portsmouth citizen testifies. Read and be convinced.

Charles R. Oliver, barber, Coffins Court, Portsmouth, N. H., says: "Standing for hours brought a constant attack on my kidneys and I finally began to have kidney complaint. My back was so lame at times that I could hardly attend to my work, and I was also troubled with headaches and spells of dizziness. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box and began using them, following the directions closely. The pains in my back and other symptoms of kidney complaint soon left and I felt much better in every way. The cure has since proven to be a permanent one and I therefore advise anyone suffering from disordered kidneys to try Doan's Kidney Pills."

was impossible to select a site above the cave, while the ground from the cave sloped steeply downward to the valley beneath, and was covered with large boulders interspersed with scrub jungle.

As it was impossible to land a tree strong enough to bear a man, a platform raised about three feet from the ground so as to get a view over some boulders had to be built, was enclosed to the front and on both sides by tent screens. After this was built a goat was tied about twenty feet in front of the man, and in a position where it would be visible from the entrance to the cave.

Having seen to all the preparations I returned to camp, and the next morning the shikari reported that the goat had been killed.

At 8.30 p. m. Tajam went to the place and as the goat had been almost entirely devoured, an other goat was tied, and the shikari and myself took our seats on the platform. To my disgust I found that the shikari had a cold and that his sneezing and coughing were sufficient to drive away any animal. I therefore sent him away and he had not been gone more than ten minutes when I heard a deep growling behind me.

Turning around suddenly I saw a large panther lying full length in the scrub, watching me from about three yards distance. He immediately made a couple of bounds to the left if my machan, where he sat on his hind quarters watching me and growling viciously. It was impossible for me to shoot as the leaves in the screen in the left were too tightly interlaced even if the panther would have remained until I could sight the life upon him. My only chance for shot was that he would pass along in front of where I was sitting, toward his goal. This, apparently he had no intention of doing, and we remained a our respective positions until it was nearly dark, when he quietly made off.

On whistling up my men I told them about the behavior of this panther, and the shikari informed me that on leaving he had met it about fifty yards from where I was seated, and as it would not move he threw stones at it, when it slunk off snarling and growling into the jungle. As it was not quite dark I unloaded my rifle, and we proceeded together to kill the goat. We had not gone half a dozen yards when we heard a rush and there was a struggle. The shikari and myself both said that it was the panther at the goat, but the other men would not have it. I, however, reloaded and as it was too late to see, advanced slowly to the goat.

On coming up to it we found it in its last death struggle, the panther having seized it by the neck as it rushed past. As I was leaving the next day I was unable to sit up again or the panther, but the next year when I was at the same place I was told the panther was still there, so I again sat in the same place, when the panther came early, and a right and left from a 22 smooth bore loaded with Lyon lethal bullets enabled me to add his skin to my trophies.

A second curious experience with a panther was within a couple of hundred yards of the place where he last panther was killed. Here he position was on the ground, but took the precaution of having a green all around. This time, too, a goat had not been tied up the previous night, so I had not much hope of the panther coming before dark. However I took up my position with the shikari early in the afternoon. At about 4 p. m. the shikari who was on my left touched me.

For some time I could see nothing out the shikari with his eyes showed me that there was something as his rifle and close to him, I then through the screen made out a panther lying full length close up against the screen intently watching the goat, which had not seen him. I did not know what the feelings of the shikari were, but I expected him to cough at any minute, as I myself felt an extraordinary inclination to do so, a feeling which invariably comes over me while waiting for a shot with nerves at high tension.

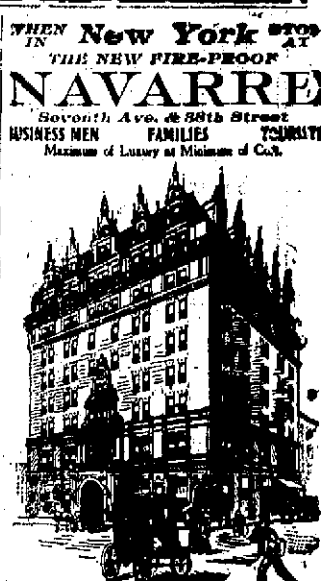

Luckily both of us managed to keep quiet, and the panther after making a prolonged survey of his surroundings, rushed upon the goat, but to my intense annoyance, the rope by which the goat was tied snapped, and the panther carrying the goat bounded back right up against the front of my screen. Luckily the screen held. The panther was as startled as we were and dropped the goat. However we did not hear him make off as the shikari quietly raised himself to look over the screen, when with another rush the panther seized the goat and bounded across the narrow clearing with it. As he did so I fired with the 500 cordite and simultaneously the goat was dropped in his tracks. I thought I had hit him badly but found afterward no sign of it, and with disgust had to write "missed badly," in my diary that evening.

MAN CHARGED WITH MURDER

Toms River, N. J., April 4.—W. J. Leehan, formerly employed as a private secretary by Mrs. E. M. Horne of Pittsburgh, is in jail here today, charged with the murder of Mrs. Chas. L. Turner of Lakewood, N. J., who was the wife of an employee on the estate of George J. Gould.

On April 26, 1911 her body was found in a clump of woods at Lakewood, the face being beaten into the earth, the skull fractured. She had apparently made a stubborn fight before she died. Leehan lived at Lakewood at the time, but subsequently moved to White Plains, N. Y. He is married.

Private detectives have been on the prisoner's trail for 18 months. One of them gained his confidence to the extent of becoming a boon companion, and last night lured him into New Jersey for arrest. He collapsed, but denied his guilt.

According to the police, Leehan's real name is Joseph Marlaty, and he is a native of Manchester, N. H. For a time he was employed as a clerk in a bank in Amoskeag, a district of Manchester, N. H.

IN THE MOVING PICTURE WORLD

The Pathe Players have been at Saranac Lake, N. Y., for several weeks executing "Winter" scenarios. The Montreal Express which was carrying them homeward, jumped the track and bumped along 500 feet of roadbed before coming to a stop. No one was hurt actually, but the story goes that Director Leo D. Wharton collected $500,000 and other members of the company smaller sums, from an over-zealous claim agent. Arriving on the scene shortly after the accident he displayed much interest in the welfare of the players that they decided to enact a little comedy before his eyes. And they got away with it too! In fact little Gwendoline Pates who lucked away in her berth, slept soundly through all the proceedings was the only one who did not receive a check to offset imaginary mental or physical pain or distress.

"The River Clyde, at Lanark, Scotland" a beautifully colored Pathe film will be released through the General Film Service early this month.

The Young Men's Christian Association of the state of Iowa are using the Biblical film "From the Manger to the Cross" in connection with a recently inaugurated series of revival meetings.

A particularly timely motion picture dealing with the political patronage evil at Washington is announced for early release by the Selig Co. It bears the title "A Chance Administration," and shows the danger of dispossessing old, trustworthy and competent employees with untold men who are advanced to high office largely as a reward for political services rendered.

The so called "multiple reel feature film" is to the motion picture industry what the novelette is to the short.

NO RE DAME LAD'S APPEAL

To all knowing sufferers of rheumatism, whether muscular or of the joints, sciatica, lumbago, backache, pains in the kidneys or neuralgia pains, to write to her for a home treatment which has repeatedly cured all of these troubles. She feels it her duty to send it to all sufferers FREE. You cure yourself at home as thousands will testify—no change of climate being necessary. This simple discovery banishes uric acid from the blood, loosens the stiffened joints, purifies the blood, and brightens the eyes giving elasticity and tone to the whole system. story" magazine was in a measure responsible for the inspiration which resulted in the production of motion picture plays of more than one reel.

For a long time stories that required more than 1000 feet of film to relate were rejected by producers under the theory that motion picture enthusiasts would hardly look with favor on a film that was so long drawn out. Came a day when a venture some producer decided to try the experiment of producing more than a single film to a story of particular merit. The boycott of the public met his greatest fears. For a long time exhibitors protested that it was a waste of time and effort to attempt to educate the public to support the multiple reel photo play. Yet the producers who had made a careful study of the exhibiting business and who had in mind the success of magazines that published a number of short stories every week, or month, in conjunction with one of greater length, believed that feature film, and be a part of the program in every modern motion picture theatre.

That the evolution of the business would eventually come into their hands as they predicted is shown in the fact that practically every week brings the announcement of a score or more of films longer than 1000 feet in length. The General Film Company which supplies the reels used in a majority of the motion picture theatres of the country, handles four a week and even that number seems insufficient to take care of the demands in many localities. When it is remembered that films of this class frequently cost as high as $50,000 to produce with a maximum production cost of $100,000 per reel it is plainly seen that producers are treating the feature film seriously.

The multiple reel feature announced by the General Film Company for the week of April 7 are "The Queen of Spades," a Cines drama in two parts; "The Toll of Fear" which is the widely advertised "one man" production because only two characters are introduced in it and they are portrayed by the same actor; "The Webb," an intensely dramatic film in two reels; the Vitaphone play, "In the Days of the War," which introduces a number of realistic battle scenes.

In the field of popular science is a highly instructive film entitled "The Locust," in which this insect, too well known in some localities at times is photographed at close range.

That the producers of motion pictures are beginning to take cognizance of the demand of patrons for educational and other films of a generally elevating nature, is evidenced by the preponderance of such films in the programs just announced. Particularly is this true of forthcoming General Film programs. A scientific subject, "The Analysis of Motion," which will be on the screens about the middle of April, is perhaps the most remarkable of the lot. The camera taking pictures at the almost incredible speed of twelve hundred per second, shows the trajectory of a bullet at a reduced speed and enables the spectator to witness just what takes place when the bullet leaves the gun, the course it describes through the air, and exactly just what happens when it strikes the target. The film which was produced in the laboratories of Pathe Freres, in France, has set the scientists of Europe wondering what will be the next marvel to be treated in motion pictures.

"The Injuring of a Marine Cable" will interest everybody, for it shows the danger to those who undertake to keep continents in communication with each other, are exposed, "all in a day's work."

An Edison film "The Capture of a Wild Cat," produces a number of thrills and at the same time answers the question frequently asked, "How did they capture the wild animal now in captivity?"

The latest offering of the Mellen photographers who are touring the world, is "Marl Life in New Zealand." The manners and customs of these strange people are shown amid scenes of unusual grandeur.

The housewife who daily piles her broom and never stops to think that the manufacture of it is an industry all by itself, and an important industry too, will enjoy a pleasant surprise in "Making Brooms" announced for release on April 8.

"Scenes Along the Pescara River, Central Italy," the River Clyde at Lanark, Scotland" and "The Kentish Coast, England" are scenic films selected for the beauty of the country they depict and for the help they will give Young America in his study of geography.

And for those whose studies lead them to ancient subjects, there is the "Tombs of the Ming Emperors."

The Omaha and Ohio and Indiana Floods Filmed

The tornado that left destruction and devastation in its wake as it swept through the business section of Omaha, had not gone many miles further on its wild journey, before the relentless motion picture camera operator was grinding out scenes to show the world in the "movies" what the newspapers had described so vividly in print.

To take these pictures was something of an achievement in motion picture photography, but the obstacles that thrust themselves in the way of the operators were as nothing compared with the fight they were to make in a few days. For the country had hardly recovered from the shock of the news from Indiana when interest shifted to the flood swept district of Ohio and Nebraska. The moving picture operator alert for such emergencies, must photograph the effects of the disaster for he is not entrusted with the tremendous responsibility of filming all current events, not merely to satisfy the demands of a fickle public, but for the more important purpose of preserving a record of them for posterity. With traffic at a standstill, railroads and bridges swept away, every avenue of approach to the stricken cities cut off from the rest of the world, is it any wonder that the camera men, keen to be at work, should puzzle over a means of getting the pictures that meant so much to them and to the story to be first in the first row will be told in full some day, but nobody knows the details yet. One Essanay photographer solved the problem by flying over the city of Dayton and the surrounding country in an aeroplane piloted by aviator Early. The photographers despatched by Lubin and Selig got their pictures, too, but from different angles. The films that were brought back by these men of iron nerve and modest manner, are now being shown in motion picture theatres and will tell in a language more universal than English how great is the need of extending material assistance in the rehabilitation of the afflicted states.

POLICE COURT

In police court before Judge Simen on Friday afternoon Sadie Clough, a chamber maid at Charles Marolton's who was charged with larceny of $42 from Fred C. McGroty, while asleep in his room, was discharged, McGroty having failed to connect the woman with the theft except in an indirect way.

Walter Tuttle was sent back to the County Farm at Brentwood for six months for drunkenness.

Patrick Driscoll charged with being drunk, was arraigned and his case continued until this afternoon.

BOYS ARRESTED FOR LARCENY.

Three school boys were rounded up by officer James Doherty on Friday charged with larceny of a box of tobacco from a freight car. One of the boys had the tobacco when arrested. The lads were later paroled in the custody of the Probation Officer to appear in Juvenile court this afternoon.

MASSACHUSETTS PASSES LAW AGAINST HATPINS

By an act which becomes a law next Monday it is unlawful for any person to wear in public in Massachusetts a hatpin which protrudes more than one-half inch beyond the crown of the hat unless the point of the pin is covered in such a manner that it cannot cause injury to others. The law prohibits that violations shall be punished by a fine of not more than $100. Portsmouth's women who visit in Boston should bear this in mind.

Commissioner O'Brien of Boston called the attention of the police to the law in a general order sent out last evening. He says that violation of this law ranks as a misdemeanor and that no authority to arrest without a warrant is conferred by the act. Offenders, therefore, can be taken in custody or brought before the courts only when the latter, on application, grant warrants for arrest or summonses for appearance. He distinctly orders the police, when acting under the law, to apply only for summonses.

The general order warns police to be particularly careful in making arrests under the law reading:

"As violations of this act will be exclusively by women or girls, and as the cause of the great majority of the offenses will be doubtless lack of knowledge of the law, police officers will be especially cautious as to the manner in which they perform their duty."

"They must be sure that the statute has actually been violated, for although the length of the projection and the fact that the point of the pin is not protected may be easily ascertained, it will often be difficult to prove exactly what constitutes the crown of the hat; and the summoning of respectable women and girls into criminal courts for an offense of this kind can be justified only on a positive and complete proof of violation of the law."

The general order does not define "the crown of the hat," nor does it give any directions for measuring the projection of a hatpin.

DANIELS FAVORS FOREIGN CRUISES

Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels spent eight minutes on the board submarine torpedo boat D-1 yesterday. Congressman E. B. Holland of Virginia, Rear Admiral Doyle, commandant of the Norfolk navy yard, and other naval officials also took the dive. It was Secretary Daniels' first experience on a submarine and he declared he would never forget it. The little boat took the plunge in thirty-five feet of water. Following an inspection of the navy yard and naval station Secretary Daniels visited the battleships New Hampshire, Louisiana and Michigan and the collier Neptune. He said his first inspection of the Atlantic fleet was a great treat to him.

"I am well pleased with the navy," he said. "I think, however, American ships should go abroad more than they do. I am told that there are men in the navy who have spent five years in the service and have never been any farther than Cuba. I think it would be a good idea to send the Atlantic fleet across the ocean. I don't mean to send all the ships at once or to the same place. I think it would be a good idea to send one division to South America, another around the Horn and another across the Atlantic. Enlisted men get tired of drills all the time. They want something for diversion. Their minds become tired of the same old routine every day. They should see new sights. It will, I think, help to improve their minds and induce young men to enlist in the service."

The vessels of the Atlantic battleship fleet, which have concluded their early spring maneuvers and practices on the southern drill grounds, are now dispersing to their respective naval headquarters.

END OF AMERICAN "NERVES."

System of Physical Culture to Do Away With This Trouble Announced by Gordon Law.

Washington, April 4.—Nervousness will have ceased in the next generation to be the curse of American people, in the opinion of Gordon Law, physical director of the local Young Men's Christian Association, who announced today that he had perfected a system of physical culture that would effectually prevent it in growing youth. He declared he would make his system public within a few days. In general it is calculated to strengthen the spinal vertebrae, the nerves that radiate from the spine, and the muscles of the neck.

"If nervousness is to be checked in the coming generation," said Mr. Law, "we must start with the children, which is the reason that I have formulated these exercises for use in the Young Men's Christian Association boys' department. The exercises are all aimed at building up the spinal column and the muscles of the neck for the reason that these parts of the body include the largest part of the fundamental nervous tract. If we keep the spinal column and neck in good shape nervousness will practically disappear."

Mr. Law said the exercises would be included at once in the regular physical work of the Young Men's Christian Association boys' department here.

TIME "RIPE" FOR CONGRESSWOMAN

Washington, April 4.—Congresswomen—petticoat legislators—may soon sit in congress according to Representative elect Johnson of Washington.

"I sincerely hope the first congresswoman will come from my state," Johnson declared to a suffrage mass meeting. "I say no reason why some brainy woman shouldn't aspire to a seat in congress with every hope of success. The men gave suffrage to women of Washington, most of the newspapers are for it, and neither the men nor the newspapers should oppose this innovation."

Johnson said redefining of Washington left a Virgin territory near Spokane ripe for invasion by a woman candidate for congress.

Many ills come from impure blood. Can't have pure blood with faulty digestion, lazy liver, and sluggish bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters is recommended for strengthening stomach, bowels, and liver and purifying the blood.
